WINGS LIKE A BIRD 1200 FEET ABOVE EARTH

Aviator Ward Made Two Successful Flights On Opening Day of the Aviation Meet.

DOUBLE PROGRAM YESTERDAY AND TO-DAY.

Two Flights Second Day With Both Ward and Lockwood
as Star--Meet Ends To-day.

The aviation meet opened Thursday at the Faulkner field, south of the city, under somewhat discouraging conditions, but two fine flights were made. The weather was unusually cool and a stiff breeze was blowing from the northwest. The attendance was about 2000. The plane went to the grounds in a special train on the T. C. Railroad which made frequent trips, stopping inside
the grounds; also in vehicles of all kinds that stopped at the gate on Main street, about 100 yards from Main avenue. Many went out on foot, as the gate is only one mile from the business district.

The program was not begun until two hours late, on account of the unfavorable weather conditions.

Announcement was made that Aviator A. H. Lockwood would not make a flight until Friday, as some minor repairs were necessary on his machine.

Jimmy Ward, the boy aviator, introduced as the youngest (being only 22), most daring and most noted birdman in the world, was on hand and ready to perform. Every time the field was cleared the wind seemed to come stronger and finally it was announced that a trial flight
would be made, wind or no wind.

The machine, a Curtiss biplane, was rolled to the east side of the field and the motor started. Mr.
Ward was seated on a small seat just in front of the engine, with a rudder in front of him very much like those on automobiles. The motor began to whirl and the wheels began to turn, the biplane running upon the ground with increasing speed until it had gone about 300 feet when it gradually left the earth and soared away as gracefully as a bird. Rising 400 or 500 feet in the air it breasted the wind for half a mile, circled to the south as far as the lower end of the big farm, turned eastward over the pike and back to the starting point, alighting with the ease of a bird upon the starting place. It was the first flight of an airship ever seen in Hopkinsville and it was a great success.

The second flight, was made at four o'clock and was a repetition of the first, except that the aviator went 1200 feet high, made a much wider circuit and remained up longer,
probably 15 minutes.

Yesterday the weather was still cold but there was not so much wind,
and all weather conditions were more favorable.

The program embraced three flights each by Ward and Lockwood, one a double flight with a race between the two biplanes.

All of the banks closed yesterday
during the flights and the schools
turned out.

The first flight was made by Ward
about two o'clock and he covered about the same territory as the day before. The attendance was far ahead of the first day and all of the vast crowd seemed more than pleased with the performance. Aside from the discomfort to the aviator
the flights were altogether successful.

The Third Regiment Band has a stand on the grounds and makes stirring music from time to time.

Free seats are provided, something very unusual at affairs of this kind.
L. A. Hemstreet, official announcer, offers postal cards of Ward in his machine for sale between flights.

The second flight was made at 2:35
and was the largest of any. He went almost out of sight in the west
before returning and after circling
the grounds alighted as usual.

The third at 4 o'clock was 2000
feet above the earth, the airship sailing like a bird over the entire southern part of the city.

Today's program will be still more interesting with some exhibition
flights and fancy maneuvers by Lockwood.

Both machines are for single passengers only and no opportunity will be afforded for passengers to enjoy the sensation of a ride in the sky.

HEAVY REGISTRATION

Addition of 159 Names Brings
Total to 2068.

The supplemental registration of city voters closed Wednesday night.
During the three days there were 159 registered, about 90 white and 69 colored. These names increased the total registration to 2,068.

Bad Negro.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 3.—An unidentified negro crazed with drink ran amuck on a ferryboat in the middle of the Mississippi river today and shot and fatally wounded three policemen and seriously wounded
five citizens before he was killed.

CASKY KILLING.

Slayer Arrested And Now in Jail Here Awaiting Trial.

Richard Bronaugh, Jr., a Negro boy about sixteen years old, is in jail, charged with the killing of his father. The Bronaughs live near Casky and the killing occurred Wednesday night. There were no eye witnesses to the affair. The boy claims that he was sitting on the side of the bed when his father came into the house and began to beat him
with a stick and he shot him.

Dr. W. S. Sandbach was summoned immediately after the shooting, but when he arrived Bronaugh was lying on the floor dead. The boy used a pistol and fired only once, the ball entering his father's back.

THE ATHENAEUM

Splendid Meeting Held With
Two Excellent Papers.

The Athenaeum has never had a pleasanter or more interesting meeting than that Thursday evening at Hotel Latham. There were 23 of the 30 members present. The program was one of exceptional interest. Mr. W. T. Tandy read a paper on "The Complete Angler" by Isaac Walton which was followed by one on "Criminology" by Rev. C.
H. H. Branch. Both papers were thoughtful, well prepared and presented in most entertaining style.
The discussion that followed was participated in by nearly all of the members and many bright speeches were made and numerous good stories were told about fishing and there were many suggestions about the punishment of criminals.

In the absence of President Gary,
Vice President Henry presided.

Those present were Col. Jouett
Henry, H. W. Linton, R. F. Mc-Daniel, J. T. Hanbery, S. Y. Trim-
ble, John Stites, H. G. Brownell, H. C. Smith, H. D. Smith, Ira L.
Smith, A. H. Eckles, Austin Bell, T.
C. Underwood, W. T. Tandy, C. H.
H. Branch, Dr. Sights, T. W. Blakey,
G. C. Abbott, A. G. Chapman, J. W.
Downer, Frank Rives, L. H. Davis,
Chas. M. Meacham. The resignation of Mr. James West as a member was received.

IN CALDWELL COUNTY

Suits of Men Arrested As Suspected Night Riders Are Settled.

In the damage suits of S. H. Lester and B. Malone against Col. E.
B. Bassett, Capt. B. B. Goach, Lieut.
Riley Butler and Capt. Gans, in Circuit Court at Princeton, the cases were settled by agreement. The officers were charged with making false arrests during the time they were patrolling the highways in the suppression of night riding. Malone was one of the men indicted here
for complicity in the Hopkinsville raid and his three indictments were dismissed without trials.

OLD RIVALS

Meet Again On the Raging
Gridiron Today.

The High Schools of Hopkinsville
and Madisonville will play a match game of football at Madisonville today that will settle the championship of the league of high schools for the season of 1911. Hopkinsville has been beaten this year by no team of its class and Madisonville also has won nearly every game it has played.
A large crowd will go to Madisonville on the 10 o'clock train to see the contest.

DAM HALF DONE.

Good Progress Being Made on River Improvements.

Contractor E. H. Hester is making good progress with the bridge piers and dam at Second street. The work is about half done. The pier on the West side and the 20 foot wing and the dam to the center of the stream have been finished. On Thursday the water was turned through the floodgate opening in the finished half and the other part of the stream
was dammed yesterday and the excavation for the last pier and wing is being made. There is not much excavating to do for the dam, as the river bed is solid rock. By the time the excavation is done the forms can be removed from the concrete and work begun on the last half. The piers are to be ready in time for the iron bridge to be erected by Nov. 20.

The retaining embankment along the lime kiln property, 364 feet, has been completed and the river will next be given a thorough cleaning. It will be ready to catch the December rains and there will be a mile of water 40 to 50 feet wide and from 10
feet to 4 feet deep.

All opposition to the improvement seems to have disappeared and the public is taking a lively interest in the work.

Menees Night Rider Suit.

The Menees damage suit at Nashville against alleged night riders is not yet concluded. R. S. Warfield, who testified here against Amoss,
was a witness Saturday and said that his father was a night rider and also a member of the advisory board.
Dr. Ben Sory, of Montgomery county, was another member, according to Warfield.

The witness said that the defendants named as having been members of the night riders were active members at the time he joined. The general of the night riders was Dr.
David Amoss, of Kentucky, he said.
Warfield also said that the members of the night riders pledged themselves that in case of trouble in court they were to protect the members by their testimony, whether it was true or not. The organization was known as the "Silent Brigade."
When a strange member approached another and said "Silent Brigade,"
the answer was: "I see that you have been there." The answer to this was: "Yes, on bended knees." Members, the witness said, wore a white handkerchief pinned on the shoulder as a badge. Late in the afternoon two or three of the defendants went on the stand and pleaded not guilty.

STANLEY GETS
STEEL TRUST

Testimony His Committee
Brought Out Used As Basis For Suit.

Washington Nov. 2.—The government to day brought suit against the United States Steel Corporation and some of its subscribers under the Sherman antitrust law looking to the dissolution of the company.
The allegation is made that the corporation is a conspiracy in restraint of trade. The Complaint of the government is similar to others that have been fought out against large corporations notably the standard Oil Company and the American Tobacco Company. The petition was filed in the United States Court in Trenton, N. J., to day. The petition was prepared by Jacob M.
Dickerson, former Secretary of War,
who had been retained by the government as its special counsel in this case. The petition charges that the Steel Corporation and those subsidiaries which are named as defendants with maintaining a conspiracy to maintain a monopoly in the steel business. The evidence upon which the suit was brought was obtained by the special investigators of the Department of Justice.

It is understood that some of the testimony which was given before the Stanley committee was used, in party at last, as the basis of this suit. The petition is in equity and was filed in the circuit court.

It contains the usual prayer for injunctions to restrain the defendants from continuing the monopoly alleged and asks for such relief as the court may grant.

Disposing of Veronica

"There is one peculiarity about getting exasperated at a man," wrote the girl at a summer resort to her dearest friend at home. "It is that you think you never can be more exasperated than on that special occasion—
and then the very next time you get exasperated you are astonished to find how much more so you can be!"

"I don't know anything better calculated to infuriate one than to see a perfectly nice man idiotically in the tolls of another girl whose motive is transparent to every woman in sight,
though the men are blind and imbecile
in her presence."

"When Veronica Bondy first appeared on the hotel veranda and I had watched her ten seconds I sighed because I knew what was ahead of me.
I was to view the spectacle of every man on the place trotting around in her wake carrying things and asking her anxiously if the hot sun didn't make her head ache and couldn't they get her something cool to drink and didn't she want to go and look at the moon!"

"Nevertheless, I privately excepted
Arthur Daw from the list of lunatics because—well, just because. And that very night at a dance he said in the middle of a waltz: 'Hasn't that new girl, Miss Bondy, the most wonderful face?' Like a child's in its innocent appeal!"

"I think I exhibited great self-control. Instead of telling Arthur that she was a selfish, cold blooded, designing little minx with no sense and whose motto in regard to womankind was 'No quarter!' I agreed with him. This encouraged him to add that such a girl, who was so helpless and confiding and trustful always brought out the best in a man, somehow. Whereupon I told him I'd like to sit down and rest."

"Of course there is nothing else so plentiful in the world as men; still, I didn't fancy letting Veronica Bondy walk off with Arthur just to show me that she could do it."

"So when Veronica blockaded the way as Arthur and I started out to walk three miles through the woods to a farm house where they sell apples, and said pathetically that she was so lonesome and there was nothing to do, I promptly asked her to come along. That three miles is mostly climbing hills or coming down them, and part of the way the sand is deep. She had on delicate pumps and silk stockings and a frilly dress—and I was garbed in khaki and walking boots."

"She hated to walk—I saw it in her eyes—but she hated worse to let me escape with Arthur for the whole afternoon. So she started. When Arthur walks he walks—and though he slowed down when I murmured that we were tiring Miss Bondy he chafed under it. He dislikes sauntering.
When we had stopped for the fourth time so he could help Veronica remove the sand from her absurd shoes,
his lips were setting in a straight line and he looked to me for sympathy, but I merely beamed."

"When we started back it began to rain steadily. If there is anything soppier and wetter than the woods
when it pours rain I'd like to be informed of it. My hair curls naturally and rain doesn't hurt khaki, so I didn't care, but Veronica was indignant. She complained dreadfully and somehow conveyed the idea that the rain was due solely to Arthur's carelessness.
The more her complexion ran off the more she complained, and at the end of a mile her hair looked like seaweed.
Her style demands fluffiness or coil-fure to appear well. At every hill she stormed. She said once that it must be nice to be a great, husky, muscular creature like me and be able to negotiate bad roads like an amazon, but as for a delicate, womanly person like herself, it was different."

"That was when I blithely suggested to Arthur that he carry her. She'd have let him, I truly believe, only he pretended not to hear me. She insisted on clinging to his arm, however,
and being dragged up the hill. Now,
a man has got to be utterly hopelessly in love with a woman before he enjoys dragging her up a hill when she is quite capable of walking by herself. I think the sight of me ambling merrily along as though I was good for another 25 miles added to his irritation."

"When we were in sight of the hotel
I turned around and smiled happily at them. At that moment I appreciated to the utmost my curly hair and the color the rain had brought to my cheeks. And Arthur had had to look at her for three solid miles."

"I've had a perfectly beautiful time! I was hateful enough to say."
"I hope," said Veronica, in a voice of rage—for she knew how she looked—
"that I don't have pneumonia and die from this!"

"Here," Arthur stormed the minute
he got me alone. "What on earth did you ever ask her to go along for?"
"Don't you like to have the best that is in you brought out?" I asked reproachfully.

"And he said one of the most brief
and expressive words in the English language under his breath—but I heard him. Then I knew that Veronica had been wiped off the map!"

Two Policemen Slain.

Shelbyville, Tenn., Oct. 31.—Redin Curdy, aged about 50, and Charles Henry, about 34 years old, city policemen of Shelbyville, were shot and killed by an unknown man on horseback at 9:30 o'clock tonight. Although the tragedy occurred on Depot street, one of the most frequented thoroughfares of the town, there were no eye-witnesses to it, but following it the slayer of the policemen was seen by several persons galloping out the Wartrace pike, but no description of the rider could be secured whereby he might be identified. News of the tragedy spread rapidly and great excitement prevails here. The sheriff and a posse have gone in pursuit of the slayer. Mystery envelops the tragedy, and not even a plausible explanation of it has been advanced.

T. M. Lunderman, a young farmer of South Christian, was attacked and seriously injured by three negroes as he was on his way home from this city. He was unarmed and could not defend himself when one negro grabbed the horse and the other two attacked him with rocks. He was struck two or three times in the head and dragged unconscious from his buggy. Several hours later the horse with only the remnants of the buggy returned home. Nothing was taken from Mr. Lunderman's person except a bank book. Several bundles of merchandise that he bought here were missing when the buggy and horse returned home. He didn't recognize his assailants in the darkness.

Cream of News Compiled and Collected From all Sources.

President Taft is back from his 15,000 mile trip and will return to the White House Nov. 12. In the meantime he will take a short rest at Hot Springs, Va.

It is said former Senator James Smith is lending his influence to the Republican legislative ticket in New Jersey in order to remove Gov. Wilson from the list of presidential candidates, by letting him lose his own state and be handicapped by a Republican legislature.

In a fight in Hankow, China, the imperialists lost 30 killed and 160 wounded and the rebels 700 killed or wounded. The slaughter of rebels was in the nature of a massacre, no prisoners being taken, and peace negotiations have been destroyed by the wild excesses.

C. P. Rodgers, who has gone from New York to Arizona and Robt. Fowler, who started east from California, met near Tucson, Arizona, Nov. 2 in transcontinental flights.

Harry Baugh, aged 18, of Boonville, Ind., has been appointed a midshipman in the Naval Academy.

Real Winter Out West.

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—A real foretaste of winter, bearing snow and freezing temperature, swept over the Missouri Valley states Thursday. From a temperature of zero in Birmingham, N. D., the thermometer graded down to 28 degrees in northern Kansas and Missouri.

Queer Verdict.

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—A jury in the circuit court here has awarded $3,500 damages to Oral Munden, a five year-old boy, because a local jeweler used his picture in an advertisement. In the suit it was explained that this inscription was printed in the newspaper in connection with the photograph of the child:

"Papa is going to buy mamma a watch for Christmas, and somebody (I won't tell who) is going to buy sister a diamond ring. What are you going to buy for me?"

75 Horses Perish.

Springfield, Tenn., was visited by a disastrous and costly fire early Friday morning which completely destroyed the property on South Main street occupied by Bell & Felts as a livery stable, G. S. Moore as a sale barn and stock yard, and the triple frame building owned by J. I. Holman and occupied by a colored barber shop, colored grocery store and J. T. Sloan's harness shop.

In addition to the great property loss entailed, a horrifying feature of the fire was the perishing of about 75 horses and mules and 25 or 30 hogs.—Springfield Herald.

POLITICAL NOTES

Is O'Rear For or Against Senator Bosworth?

Senator Bosworth, who led the fight for good roads in the last Legislature, and who is a very popular man with his people, has been renominated by the Republicans. He has many friends in the Seventeenth District, but his enemies have brought out an independent Republican, and are urging a bitter warfare upon him. As the District is hopelessly Republican, the Democrats have made no nomination.

The evening Post which helped to force O'Rear's nomination, and which is his chief organ, is making a relentless fight against Senator Bosworth. Although he is the nominee of the party, it is urging the Republicans of his District to vote against him, and is doing all in its power to accomplish his defeat. The Post charges that Senator Bosworth is not in line with his party platform on Temperance matters.

So far, Judge O'Rear has not committed himself as to Senator Bosworth's candidacy. He does not dare give him open opposition, because Bosworth's popularity in that section is as great, if not greater than O'Rear's. If O'Rear urges the Republicans to elect Bosworth, he will gain the enmity of the Evening Post, which is implacable in its hatred. On the other hand, if he takes sides with the independent candidate for the Senate, he will run the risk of having Bosworth's friends knife him. Every effort has been made to harmonize the factions in this matter, but it has only deepened the chasm that divides them.

Masked Hold-Up Men.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 1.—Six men held up westbound Rock Island passenger train No. 43, known as the Arkansas-Oklahoma express, midway between Memphis and Hurlburt, Ark., early this morning, ransacking mail pouches, fired seven nitro-glycerine cans into the "way" express safe, which not only tore away the safe doors, but wrecked the car, and, in the midst of the work, were frightened away when a switch engine, searching for the overdue train, appeared from Hurlburt. It is declared that but little of value was secured. The men were last seen making their way toward the Mississippi river. Hurlburt is eleven miles from Memphis.

Third Time.

James A. Holmes, a miner of Daniel Boone, will marry today for the third time although only twenty-eight years of age. His bride will be Miss Lucy Pryor, a seventeen-year-old girl of Daniel Boone. The ceremony will be performed at the home of her mother, Mrs. Parale Pryor.—Hustler.

Gamble-Word.

H. F. Gamble and Miss E. F. Word, young people living in North Christian, were married here late Wednesday afternoon. Judge Knight performed the ceremony.

Lost Control.

San Jose, Cal., Oct. 31.—Prof. John F. Montgomery of Santa Clara College, died this afternoon as a result of a fall of an aeroplane glider he was experimenting with near here. Apparently he lost control of the machine. He sustained injuries to the brain.
Mrs. Montgomery was watching her husband when the tragedy occurred. Prof. Montgomery was an authority on aerial navigation. He was 50 years old.

CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Made Safe by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms, and I can truly say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved worth mountains of gold to me, as it restored my health and strength. I never forget to tell my friends what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me during this trying period. Complete restoration to health means so much to me that for the sake of other suffering women I am willing to make my trouble public so you may publish this letter."—Mrs. CHAS. BARCLAY, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

No other medicine for women's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing women's ills such as inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for carrying women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

CALL FOR

Greater Kentucky Convention in Louisville Nov. 14-15.

So many questions of vital importance to the future of Kentucky are pressing upon the people of the State for discussion and wise solution that it seems important again to call together in conference representative men from all parts of the State to consider present conditions and desired reforms and feasible methods of advancing the prosperity of the State. Such conferences heretofore held have resulted in great good, developing a better understanding of the needs of the State and a closer cooperation among its progressive citizens, and promoting a clearer understanding of what can be done and how best to do it.

In this spirit such a State conference is called by the two State-wide organizations which we represent, to be held in Louisville Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14-15. The subjects to be discussed will cover the field of Kentucky's needs. It is desired to have in attendance the live public spirited men of every county and city.

At our request the Louisville Convention and Publicity League will make all arrangements for the entertainment of the convention.

We are asking all County Judges, Mayors of the cities and commercial and agricultural organizations to appoint a number of delegates, not less than five each, whose interest can be counted on, and whose advice will be valuable.

GEO. H. COX, Owensboro, President Federal of Commercial Clubs.

J. W. PORTER Lexington, President State Development Association.

Mr. Underwood is no stranger to Middlesboro. He has been here on previous meetings of the Kentucky Press Association, most notably the last one in this city, when he made many new friends by his charming personality and eloquence of speech.

COL. EWING

A Witness In The Menees Case At Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 2.—The defense completed its evidence in chief in the Robertson county night rider case yesterday and the plaintiff introduced witnesses in rebuttal. Testimony closed today. The chief witness was General Manager F. G. Ewing, of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, who testified as to operations of the organization. He declared that all forms of lawlessness were opposed by him and the organization. He denied being a night rider.

Witness thought the first raid was made at Princeton, Ky., and subsequently at Hopkinsville. He only knew this by reading of it in the newspapers.

Witness said he opposed the action of the Governor of Kentucky in trying to put down the raiders. He opposed like action on the part of the Governor of Tennessee. He told the Governor of Kentucky that the money necessary to call out the militia would be better expended in conciliatory methods.

Witness said he met Gov. Patterson at Clarksville and told him that he had nothing whatever to do with Night Riders and could offer no suggestion on the matter of putting down the trouble. He thought Gov. Patterson was seeking votes and that was the reason he declined to offer any suggestions.

Sued For Salaries.

Squire Dan U. Burke gave judgment in favor of Maud Edwards against the Young Buffalo Wild West Show for $95, and in favor of Eva Edwards, her mother, for $10.35. The two plaintiffs are performers in the Young Buffalo Show, showing under the stage names of Maud and Lillian Burbank, and the judgment was for services rendered. It is probable an appeal will be taken on the larger judgment to the Circuit Court. The same parties are already involved in a suit in the Circuit Court, which was filed by the women against the show. This suit is for $10,000 damages claimed to be due because of the shooting of a trick horse, "Dynamo," which is used by the performers in their act, and which is said to be a most remarkably valuable trick horse. The shooting occurred at a small town in Alabama, and was said to have been done by one of the crack shoot performers, whose bullet went wild, striking the horse in the ankle.—Nashville Banner.

E. L. Powell Cave, a young man about twenty-five years old, son of the Rev. R. L. Cave, the widely-known minister of the Woodland-street Christian church at Nashville, Tenn., and chaplain of the United Confederate Veterans of America, is in the Jefferson county jail, charged with uttering a worthless check and with obtaining money by false pretenses from L. E. Morefield a saloon keeper.

The young man is married and has two children. His wife is a sister of Dr. Walter B. Gossett. He is a cousin of Dr. E. L. Powell, pastor of the first Christian church of this city. He is well known in Louisville, numbering among his friends some of the best known people in the city. It is said that he has had every possible opportunity to advance in the world. He refused to talk at the jail today.—Louisville Times.

Mrs. E. M. Flack has returned from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Woodard, at Terre Haute, Ind.

MEDICINE HORSE

From Fighting Fire Water Was Left Behind.

Chief Medicine Horse, a Sioux Indian with the Young Buffalo Show, filled up with fire water Thursday and was left behind by the show people. Chief of Police Roper notified the show management that the Indian would be turned over to them, but they went off without him. Yesterday he was sober but very dejected and almost sick. He speaks hardly any English but understood the words "Show" and "Peoria," the place where the show will winter. He had $6 on his person. Chief Roper has written Peoria for instructions as to what to do with the Indian, as he is a ward of the government. In the absence of other instructions he will be put on the train for Peoria, Ill.

IN CROFTON

Attorney General Breathitt Will Speak This Afternoon.

Attorney General Jas. Breathitt will speak this afternoon at Crofton and not in this city as announced in Thursday's Kentuckian.

The World Plays Fair. Depend upon this: You get what is coming to you, be it a big honor or a swift swipe.

Mrs. E. A. Chavanne and little daughter, who spent several months here, have returned to their home at Lake Charles, Louisiana, accompanied by Mrs. Chavanne's mother, Mrs. Hunter Wood.

Occupation Not Overcrowded. In a period when many business and professional men complain of unusual dullness in their various callings it is pleasant to record that one occupation diligently followed by many persons of both sexes is at its height. We refer to the business of minding other people's business.

RAINS RALLY BEGINS TO-NIGHT.

At the Ninth Street Christian Church at 7 O'clock.

For a half hour or so tonight Dr. F. M. Rains will meet as many members of the Ninth Street Christian church in the lecture room of the church as may find it possible to attend a preliminary conference at that time. Vastly important plans will be made in this short meeting for the great service of tomorrow morning. Many who have read and heard of the distinguished Christian leader no doubt will avail themselves of the opportunity to meet him socially after the meeting.

The great rally service itself will occur tomorrow morning at 10:45. No more important meeting than this has been held in the church for a great while.

Dr. Rains will arrive this morning and will be the guest of his friend, the minister of the Ninth Street Church.

Dr. Rains is a Kentuckian, having been born in Grant county. He came of upright, pious parentage. He grappled with life in this world with smiling cheer but with a purpose of steel. He early became a Christian and gave himself to the Ministry of the Word. His higher education was received in Columbia Christian College and in the famous old College of the Bible at Lexington.

Dr. Rains began to preach as a pastor in the little city of Winfield, Kansas. A little later he became a leader of the Disciples in that state. Thence he was promoted to be Secretary of the new Board of Church Extension. This church building society he quickly established upon a solid foundation. Almost a million dollars are now being used in this enterprise. From the establishment of this notable work Dr. Rains went to the publishing house of the Disciples in Cincinnati where again his vital enthusiasm and his conquering optimism wrought their appropriate results. From the publishing interest he was called in 1893 to his great career as Secretary and Treasurer of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society. It is for what he has done in this world-wide interest that he will be remembered best by other generations of his people. Now for almost twenty years he has been the Commissary-General of a great army of Christ making possible from year to year yet other and remoter frontiers for the kingdom of God.

Dr. Rains will not speak tomorrow morning on missions, however. He comes especially to speak to the local church of its own affairs in response to the urgent invitation of its officers.

As a speaker, Dr. Rains is one of the most promiscuous figures among his brethren. He has a good voice, a pleasing and impressive personality, an exceptional humor and limitless zeal and vigor.

Barnes-Rogers.

Dr. O. L. Barnes, a young physician of Carl, an Miss Ivel Rogers, of the same neighborhood, were married in Clarksville Tuesday afternoon. The bride was a county pupil attending the public high school here. The young people went over to Clarksville in an automobile and after the ceremony returned to this city, where they spent the night, going to Carl Wednesday.

The Comeback.

"We are turning a lot of young lawyers out." "Don't worry. They'll get back at us by taking us in."

NEWS FOR 400 WOMEN

AND GIRLS WHO WANT SUITS AND CLOAKS!

Flying to New York buying four hundred cloaks and suits and back in a week was not so dangerous as the flights Charles Prowse will make at the Aviation Meet on the Canton Pike this week, but it will be a whole lot more profitable to those who will take advantage of this great suit and cloak opportunity. ## FIERCE GLARE OF HEYBURN

It Silenced the Senators Who Were Enjoying Clapp's Glop at the Idaho Man.

Because Senator Heyburn is on his feet so constantly, addressing the senate, sometimes one may hear murmurings of discontent from his fellow members, and when the Idaho member turned around the other afternoon and gazed at Senator Penrose, he made the usually bold chairman of the finance committee look as sheepish as if he had been caught saying his prayers.

The senator was delivering bitter and contemptuous remarks on the statehood bill and undertook to make fun of Senator Clapp's flights of oratory on the same subject, Clapp having preceded him. He said that some of these orators of the senate at times flew so high no one could follow them. Senator Clapp's gift of repartee is not limited and he tartly answered:

"You might not fly as high as other people, but no one will deny that you can fly longer than most any one."

There was a general laugh, in which Senator Penrose and Senator Brandegee joined with conspicuous heartiness. The irate man from Idaho turned around and cast that glare of his on them with an effect that was so instantly sobering that a new laugh was started at their expense. Unconscious of the fate that had overtaken Penrose and Brandegee, Senator Dixon was laughing immoderately at Clapp's reply. Heyburn glared at him and the Montana man promptly froze up and so quickly that Penrose and Brandegee gave vent to fresh guffaws at Dixon's expense.

PRESENCE OF MIND

Doctor—Well, how are you today?
Patient—No better, doctor.

Doctor—H'm, I think you would better leave off taking those pills I ordered you.

Patient—I haven't taken any of them yet.

Doctor—For goodness sake, then, take them.

OCCIDENTAL GORGEOUSNESS.

Newport belles do not dress nearly so well, from an expense point of view, as Princess Chulong of Siam, who is, by the way, the oldest of 80 sons and 20 daughters left by the late king. Her dress as she appeared one day cost $1,000,000, counting the cost of her harem skirt, embroidered in silver and gold, and all the precious stones about her. The collar that she wore contained jewels valued at $255,000, and her necklace was of fine pearls worth $50,000. Her slippers were studded with diamonds and altogether no doubt a million was a conservative estimate.

CARRYING LIQUIDS IN TRUNK

Having had several articles of value spoiled by the breaking or leaking of little bottles of medicine, I hit upon a fine way to pack them. I cut the neck from a hot-water bottle, which had begun to leak at the top, sewed some brass rings to the top, and drew a stout ribbon through the rings. After packing my small bottles in this, I drew up the top, tied it and packed it in my suit case. Another leaky hot-water bottle I used as a case for toe rubbers.—Delineator.

NOT THE TEMPERAMENT.

Leading Lady—I see where you have cast Reginald Rhinestone for the role of an old salt in our play.

Stage Manager—Yes, I have. Why not?

Leading Lady—Because he can't play an old salt. He's too fresh.

RATHER SLIM FARE.

"How wuz de feed in de last jail you wuz in, Dusty?"

"Just so-so, me boy."

"How wuz dat?"

"Dejeuner wuz bread an' water. Repeat tree times an' you have de daily menu."

Pains All Over.

Houston, Tex.—"For five years," says Mrs. L. Fuienchek, of this place, "I suffered with pains all over, especially in my back and side, and was so weak I could hardly do my housework. A friend told me of Cardui. Since taking it, I feel so much better! Now I can do all my housework and pains don't bother me any more at all." Cardui is a strength building medicine. Fifty years of success have produced, amongst its many users, confidence in Cardui and what it will do. During this time, Cardui has relieved the female ailments of over a million women. Why not yours? Try it, today. Your druggist sells it.

BOUND TO HAVE THAT PARTY

Little Thing Like Dizzy Walk in Air Couldn't Fease Ardent Bridge Devotees.

Nothing short of devotion to bridge could have nerved a party of women to do what this party of women did. Half an hour before the time set for the playing to begin in the tenth-floor apartment something went wrong with the dynamos, and all elevators stopped running for, anyhow, a day and a half. When the bridge hostess learned that she nearly fainted.

"Nine flights of stairs to climb," she said, "and every woman I have invited is fat. They'll never get here."

She implored everybody about the house to suggest some way out of the trouble. Nobody could, except to walk; there was no alternative. But the hostess did not give up so easily. She looked across at the neighboring apartment house, whose tenth-floor windows faced her windows. An abyss fifteen feet wide yawned between the two buildings, but to a woman in her predicament fifteen feet dwindled to fifteen inches.

"There is a way," she said. "How about those long planks on the roof? Lay them across to the opposite roof, make a handrail of ropes, and my guests can go up in the elevator to the roof of that house, cross the bridge, and walk down one flight to my apartment."

Employees of both houses gladly assumed the role of bridge builder, a hallboy was stationed in the lobby to explain matters to arriving guests, and a few minutes later a procession of scared but determined women gasped and clutched on their aerial way.—New York Press.

KEEP THEIR MEMORY GREEN

Frenchmen Delight in Pilgrimages to the Tombs of the Great or Notorious.

The chapel tomb of Honore de Balzac at Pere la Chaise was visited this afternoon by a group of admirers who make a yearly pilgrimage to the spot on August 18. There "friends of Balzac" keep the novelist's memory green in an essentially Parisian manner, leaving cards and bead wreaths on the tomb and delivering speeches and eulogies that are listened to reverently by a fair audience.

During August innumerable American tourists visit the different cemeteries of the city, and many happened to be at Pere la Chaise this afternoon at the time of the little ceremony. The French themselves have a veritable cult for ancestors that must be second only to that of the Japanese, and on every fete day anniversary or holiday they "precipitate themselves" (to use their own expressive word) to the cemeteries, leaving always some mark of their presence in the shape of a bouquet, large or small. The tombs of public men and women are yearly the object of special demonstrations.

Helme's tomb is perhaps one of the most favored by foreigners, but that of the original Dumas "Dame aux Camellias" is the best cared for, as every day in the year it is visited and carefully dusted by a half-crazy woman with dyed yellow hair and thread gloves, who enters freely into conversation with all visitors and loves to relate the history of this "Marguerite."—Paris Correspondence London Evening Standard.

Sleep the Fountain of Youth.

Any number of women who are cutting ruthlessly into their allowance to swell the cash drawer of the beauty parlors could solve the riddle of appearing fresh and animated if they would but make a practice of taking the proper amount of sleep.

The value of sleep as a restorative and as a fountain of youth is unbelievable until one has bathed regularly therein. It almost seems magic in its effect and many a woman who has discovered the secret is the envy and admiration of her beauty parlor friends.

Eight hours for work, eight hours for sleep and eight for play is the old rule. Up to now no one has improved on this proportion. If you care more for the preservation of your youth and attractiveness than of your pleasure take not less than the allotted eight hours of sleep from the 24.

Quail Hatches Chicken.

An incident of some interest is reported from the Woodland neighborhood. Last week on the farm of W. L. Riley of that vicinity a quail's nest was found in which a hen had laid an egg. With this was found the usual number of quail eggs.

The last of the week the hen egg hatched and the quail seemed to lose all interest in her own eggs and turned her attention to the chick, leaving her nest and disappearing with it. Some of the quail eggs were broken and showed that they would have been hatched in another week.—Morganfield Post.

Turkey Leads in Good Work.

From benighted Turkey comes news through the state department of an invention calculated to make the dishonest milkmen of all the world quake in their boots. The invention consists of a can fitted with valves which permit a liquid to be poured out but not in. There is an opening, of course, by which the can is filled, but as soon as this is done and scientific inspectors have tested the contents and pronounced them unadulterated and unwatered milk, the opening is officially sealed. After that the milk is ready to be sent to the consumer.

CACTI FOR TELEPHONE POLES

Scheme for a Government Line in Arizona Desert Which Is Believed to Be Feasible.

Sahara for telephone and telegraph poles is the latest idea and one that is to be tried out. It sounds plausible and it is believed that it will be more economical than the old style of poles. Its test is to come from Arizona.

The government is to build a telephone system for the forestry service of the Coronado forest reserve. The first of these lines to be built out of Tucson is to be used into the Catalinas, and it is there that the Sahara experiment is to be tried.

The giant cacti will not be sawed off and set up nor will they be transplanted, but the growing plant will be used as a pole where it is found practical. Where they can be found in what approaches alignment, so that the line will not have to zigzag too much, the sahara up in the canons through which the line will pass are to be utilized for the purpose of attaching brackets to which the wires will be fastened. And so the secret is out.

Along the proposed line it is difficult to set poles, owing to the rocky nature of the country traversed. Not only is this the case, but it is difficult to get the poles up there in the hills to set, while the sahara are right there in many instances, and while not at a uniform distance this is not considered important. Another saving will be that while the made to order poles will not out the ready made ones, these will be of long life and will not demand replenishing and replacing from time to time.

AS A MAN SHOULD ANSWER

For Once a New Yorker Rose to the Occasion and Was There With Apt Response.

Two men somewhat alike as to build, dress and general appearance entered an upper West side restaurant within a few minutes of one another the other evening, says the New York Press. They were also alike and not different from the average New Yorker in burying themselves in newspapers as soon as they had chosen tables.

Presently there entered a well-dressed, good-looking woman, somewhat in a hurry, if one were to judge from her manner, and a trifle distraught. Glancing hastily around the room, she seated herself at the table which one of the men had selected.

He merely lifted his eyes from his paper for an instant, in the disinterested manner New Yorkers adopt, and fell to reading again, while the woman seized the menu card and began studying it. It took her a couple of minutes to decide what she wanted. Having found it, she laid her hand on the arm of the man. As he looked up at her a curious expression came over her face.

"Why—why, you're not my husband, are you?" she gasped.

"I am sorry, madam," he replied gallantly, "that I am not."

Then both of them laughed, which aroused the man at the other table from his paper long enough to permit him to announce himself.

Largest Gas Tank in the World. Contracts have been awarded for the erection at Pittsburgh at a cost of $500,000 of the largest holder for the storage of natural gas in the world.

The big holder will be erected on the company's storage property at Rebecca street and South avenue, North Side, close to the great natural gas holder which now has the record for size. These two great holders will be filled with natural gas during the night for use in the North Side district during the daytime and will be used to cover any possible emergency in the natural gas supply for the territory north of the Allegheny river.

The giant holder will have a capacity of 6,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas. It will have a diameter of 226 feet, will be 208 feet high and the material composing it will weigh about 5,000 tons. The present natural gas holder of the Philadelphia company has a capacity of 5,000,000 cubic feet, is 198 feet in diameter and 190 feet high.—Oil and Gas.

Tokyo Type Foundry.

The leading type foundry of the Far East is located at Tokyo and produces two series of Chinese type. The first series, consisting of 5,000 characters, has in combinations a total of 150,000 separate pieces of type. The second series has 3,000 characters and 100,000 combinations.

The producers of the type publish a catalogue in which each character is printed and by the side of this character is given the number of combinations in which it is used. This foundry also produces Japanese characters, the Hrakana in 152 characters and 30,000 combinations and the Katakana in 82 characters and 19,000 combinations.

Old Festival Retained.

With an unbroken record dating back to 1682, the quaint and picturesque rush-bearing festival was observed at St. Oswald's church, Grasmere, Westmoreland, England, recently. The ceremony is a survival of the days when rushes were employed to protect worshippers from damp floors while kneeling. Each year the inhabitants conveyed to the church a new supply of rushes. Nowadays the vicar of the parish received a kind of memorial gift of rushes and a special service marks the occasion.

HARD BATTLE FOR THE DOG

Sport Killed the Big Bob Cat, but He Suffered Severely in the Combat.

After a battle in which he came near meeting death himself, Sport, a medium sized coach dog, the property of W. M. Butterbaugh, a rancher living in Lempi's Gulch, Idaho, killed a bob cat that measured six feet from nose to tip of tail.

The dog was terribly scratched and bitten and has not yet entirely recovered. He was mauled by the long, sharp claws of the big cat and in some places the scratches are deep, digging clear to the bone. The cat would weigh half again as much as the dog, and towered above him in height.

Mr. Butterbaugh did not see the fight, but arrived on the scene shortly after the dog had killed the cat and found his faithful friend lying on the ground, unable to move, and scarcely living. It looked at the time like a bad case, but he succeeded in nursing the animal back to life.

"For some days we had been missing chickens," Mr. Butterbaugh said, "and I was unable to figure out what was killing them. I would get up in the morning and find one or two lying dead in the barnyard, still warm, and I could not tell what sort of an animal was doing the mischief."

"But Sport figured it out, and one morning I heard him take out after something. I got up as soon as I could and followed up the gulch, expecting that they would take that trail. When I got there I found the dog lying on the ground and the big cat dead."

"The dog had chased him up there, but the cat had turned on him and shown fight. They must have fought there 15 minutes before the battle was settled. And from the looks of both the cat and the dog it must have been a terrible battle."

DODGE THE POSTAGE STAMP

Foreign Countries Devising Schemes for Benefit of Large Users of the Mails.

Any man who can devise a practical substitute for the postage stamp will deserve the gratitude of every large business house in the world, and may earn a large fortune. For the labor of affixing stamps to their enormous mail necessitates in some firms the employment of a special clerical staff.

In the postoffices of some countries steps in this direction have already been taken. Here, for instance, newspapers and magazines are mailed by their publishers in bulk without stamps, and the postage is paid in a lump sum of one cent a pound. Then, again, some firms that send out large quantities of circulars register themselves under a certain number at the postoffice, their envelopes are printed with this number and the circulars so mailed are paid for in bulk. In Bavaria large consignments of letters may merely be postmarked by machinery and sent without stamps, the postage fee being paid in a lump sum at the time of mailing. It is said that since February 1, 1910, this system has saved the Bavarian postoffice the expense for paper and the printing cost for 10,000,000 stamps.

A writer in the Umschau, a German publication, suggests a further development of this system along the lines of a meter, like those used for water, gas and electricity, in which the letters would be placed and automatically stamped with a postmark, the machine recording each letter so mailed. These machines would be inspected periodically and the bills collected, just as are those of the consumer of gas or water.

Artificial Sponge.

An artificial sponge, the outcome of German ingenuity, is now to be had, according to the Scientific American. The process of making it consists principally in the action of zinc chloride on pure cellulose. This results in a pasty, viscous mass, which is mixed with coarsely grained rock salt.

Placed in a press mold armed with pins the mass is pierced through and through until it appears traversed by a multitude of tiny canals, like the pores of a natural sponge. The excess of salts is subsequently removed by prolonged washing in a weak alcoholic solution. The artificial sponge swells up with water but hardens on drying, just like its prototype; it is said to be eminently adapted for filtering water for sanitary or industrial uses and it can be employed for all the purposes that are usually assigned to the genuine article.

Ancient Roman Long Branch.

The sea coast of Laurentum may have been in favor with the fashionable and the wealthy for a brief space of time under Augustus and his immediate successors, but was given up quite soon to parvenues and merchants and retired officers, and the same set of noisy people who haunt at the present day the popular watering places of the world. To make the analogy more striking, an inscription has been found at La Capocotta singing the praises of a wealthy Jew, and revealing the fact that a synagogue had been built at Ostia for the use of the Semitic "villegianti" on the neighboring coast.

His Misfortune.

"You got a raise in pay. Didn't you?"

"Yes, but it didn't do me any good."

"Why not?"

"I talk in my sleep and my wife found out about it."—Toledo Blade.

VOICES OF WOMEN EAGERLY SOUGHT

Mayoralty Election Will Probably be Decided by Feminine Ballots.

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—Complete official returns from yesterday's primary show the failure of the socialists to capture the mayoralty by a majority vote. Mayor George Alexander, "good government" nominee, and Job Harriman, socialists, will compete in a two-man contest for the office Dec. 5.

The returns show the primary vote to have been as follows: Harriman, 20,157; Alexander, 16,790; Mushel, 8,168; Gregory, 327; Becker, 59. Harriman's plurality was 3,367. His vote fell short 4,188 of a majority over all, which was necessary for election.

Impartial leaders say the question in the coming campaign that is agitating all factions is "what will the women do?" There are now approximately 25,000 women registered and by Nov. 9, when registration closes for the fair sex, it is believed 40,000 will have qualified.

Herculean efforts have been and are being made by the socialists to enroll as many working women as possible. Socialist leaders claim 90 per cent of these will vote for Harriman. Seemingly recognizing that their only hope of offsetting the "women labor vote" lies in the registration of women in the residential districts, the good government forces have won in hundreds of deputies who will at once begin a house to house canvass.

Miss Mary Felts, of Springfield, Tenn., is a guest of Miss Bettie Morton.

Mrs. J. B. Johnson is now some better at this writing, after being ill several days last week with a bilious attack.

Tom Jones and wife, of Hopkinsville, came out to H. H. Fulcher's Sunday in their automobile and spent the day.

Misses Lucile Petrie and Katie May Layne of Fairview spent Sunday with Miss Ethel Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fulcher spent several days last week with the families of E. P. Bell and W. M. Wilson.

T. H. Goens and daughter, Miss Ada, of Ballard county spent last week with the family of F. W. Hampton.

Buford Johnson spent Sunday in Fairview with his grandfather, T. M. Johnson.

Several from here have been attending the protracted meetings at Pembroke and Bells Chapel.

A halloween party was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Arnold in the Jesup neighborhood Tuesday night. It was given for her Sunday School class, and several invited guests of which we were one. The following are the names of the young people present: Misses Ethel and Margaret Layne, Pearl and Elizabeth Hurt, Pauline, Lucile and Nettie Lee Petrie, Ethel and Evelyn Wade, Katie May Layne, Minnie and Trilitha Johnson, Alma and Sonnie Burrus, Alma Wade and Virginia Humphrey. ### The Town Of Tripoli.

To those unaccustomed to the sights and sounds and smells of the East, a visit to the town of Tripoli is more interesting than enjoyable, with its harbor and its hostelry are so incredibly bad that no one ever visits them a second time if he can possibly help it. The harbor of Jaffa in Palestine, is a trifle worse if anything, that of Tripoli; but the only hotel I know of which deserves to be classed with the Albergo Minerva in Tripoli, is the one next door to the native jail in Aden. Picture a cluster of square, squat, stuccoed houses, their tedious sky line broken by the minarets of mosques and the flag-staffs of foreign consulates, facing on a Crescent shaped bay. Under the sun of an African summer the white buildings of the town blaze like the whitewashed base of a railway station stove at white heat; the stretch of yellow beach which separates the harbor from the town glows fiery as brass; while the waters of the bay look for all the world as though they had been blued in readiness for the family washing, with in the crumbling ramparts of the town is a network of dim alleys and by ways, along which the yashmaked moslem women flit like ghosts, and vaulted trellis-roofed bazars where traders of twoscore nationalities haggle and gesticulate and deaze and pray and chatter, the while they and their wares and the passing camels smell to heaven. Scattered here and there among the shops are native bakeries, in the reeking interiors of which after your eyes, become accustomed to the darkness, you can discern patient camels plodding round grinding the grain in true Eastern fashion between the upper and the lower millstones. From "Tripolitania: The Italian White Man's Burden" by E. Alexander Powell, in the American Reviews of November.

U. S. CIVIL SERVICE

Examination to be Held in Hopkinsville, Nov. 11.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announces an examination at Hopkinsville on Nov. 11 to secure eligibles from which to make certification to fill contemplated vacancies in the position of storekeeper-gauger which pays $4 per day. Applications must be in by Nov. 7. W. E. Williamson is the local examiner. Persons obtaining applications too late to be filed at Cincinnati prior to Nov. 7 will be admitted to examination upon presentation of application to examiner on morning of examination.

Temperance O'Rear.

On September 30th Judge O'Rear spoke in Cadiz. In less than two hours after he left Trigg county that afternoon, and within ten miles of the Trigg county line, he was in a saloon talking to a saloon-keeper, so we are reliably informed, when the saloon-keeper noticed the temperance button which the Judge wore on the lapel of his coat and said something to him about it, and the Judge, with a wink of the eye and a smile, replied: "Ah, well, you know I have just come out of a prohibition county."

We have the affidavit of two prominent citizens of Trigg county to the effect that this saloon-keeper, who is a Republican, told them of the above conversation—Cadiz Record.

Negroes Assassinated.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 1—Five negroes have been assassinated in the vicinity of the Arcadie mines in the western part of the county since Saturday. The conditions have become intolerable, officers say, and while officers have the cases before them, the mysterious murders are shocking. Two negroes were found in the woods Saturday, shot to death. Since then three others have been put to death by unknown persons.

Hunters Killed.

Mays Landing, N. J., Nov. 2.—Mistaken for deer in the gloom of the early dawn, Constant Steelman and John Yost, business men of Pleasantville, were killed, and Wm. Jarvis, of the same place, was injured when a hunter fired at them at Weymouth, six miles from here. The man alleged to have made the fatal mistake is said to be Charles Norcross, a stranger in the neighborhood.
